DUCK'S

Infants 1

February was a month full of changes! We welcomed three new friends to our room, bringing the current total up to eight. We are full again! Welcome, Savannah, Isabelle and Jace - we're so excited to have you here! It has been an adjustment having our big kids move up and receiving new, little babies, but we have been enjoying the change of pace. Rather than consistently filling high chairs for older infants to eat solids, we have now been consistently getting to snuggle little ones as they drink their bottles.

It has been so exciting to see our older babies start to take tentative steps, and walk along with walker toys or a helping hand - and we've gotten to see our younger babies roll all over and gain awesome head control and more awareness of all that's going on around them! We look forward to all that March has to bring us. As always, let us know if you have any questions, etc. Your kids are such a blessing from the Lord, and we are so grateful that we are able to care for them! We hope March finds you happy and healthy!

CHICK'S

Infants 2

Hello families from the infant 2 room,

We are back to 3 babies but are hoping for another baby soon. Our 3 current babies are getting closer to walking on their own. They are feeding themselves more food and growing. We are looking forward to watching them meet their next achievement. I have purchased more decorations for our room and have hung them up. I will continue to decorate for the seasons and holidays. Feel free to stop by and check it out. I'm hoping that everyone has a wonderful March and St. Patrick's Day.

TURTLE'S

Toddler 1

Hello parents!

In the month of February, we got settled as a full class of 8 and everyone became fully adjusted! We celebrated Valentine's Day by making art projects and exchanging lots of gifts, candy, and love towards one another! We of course focused on educational development as well, spending a lot of time identifying different parts of ourselves with the song "Head, Shoulders, Knees, and Toes" and identifying animals and the sounds they make. All of the toddlers have been making such good progress individually with their knowledge and overall movements, which is amazing to see. We're excited to see what good things the month of March will bring!

SNAIL'S

Toddler 2

Hi Parents!

We are heading into the home stretch of winter! While we have been having fun in the snow and working on winter themed art projects, we are so excited to start decorating our classroom with spring themed projects this month. In March we look forward to celebrating Madelyn and Luka's birthdays before we send them to the 2's room. The toddlers have been enjoying having Liam and Cole join our class. And we have had Eleanor from the infant room visit our room in the mornings to transition her to join our class soon as well. Our toddlers have been very into Lego building lately. We like to see how tall we can stack them before they fall over. This month we will be continuing to work on tasks that the toddlers can do on their own as they want to gain more independence. For example, having them bring their meal cups to the cart when they are done, practice putting shoes on, cleaning up toys, and helping put their blankets away at nap time. We have a room full of great helpers!

TREE FROG'S

2's

Hello from the Tree Frog Room,
It seems like the months are just flying by! February was a fun one with our Valentine's Day party. The kids loved decorating their boxes, dressing up, and getting to see all the treats they got. Thank you for bringing treats to share, it made everyone smile! We also had one birthday this month; happy birthday to Easton who turned 3!

We have moved back to the Tree Frog Room for the time being and the kids are doing very well with this transition. We are focusing on teaching the kids to use their words and not their hands, as well as keeping our shoes on.

With the holidays and birthdays, we have been doing lots of fun art projects and have been eating lots of yummy treats! We have only been outside a few times this month due to weather but have enjoyed the time we get. We are looking forward to the weather getting warmer and are excited to see what March has in store for us!

Please remember to check your child's mailbox for art projects, prizes, and other things to be sent home.

TIGER'S

3's

Hello from the Tiger room,

We have had a wonderful February. We enjoyed celebrating Valentine's Day and learning about love. We had so much fun passing out our Valentines. While passing out the Valentines we worked on recognizing each other's first letters. We still enjoy doing our feelings board and recognizing our feelings. We are working on different coping techniques when our feelings are overwhelming. We really enjoy doing free art in the morning. We use scissors, stickers, glue, coloring items anyway we want. It is so much fun. This next month we look forward to celebrating St. Patrick's Day and hunting for leprechauns. We are going to continue working on recognizing our letters of our names.

Thanks for checking in,
Mrs. Garcia

PENGUIN'S

4-5's

Hello Penguin families!

I wanted to start off by saying it's been fun teaching your kids while Mrs. Culligan is on maternity leave. They sure are a smart and fun group of kids. They took to having me as their teacher very well by listening, following directions and doing new activities well! We have been working on writing our letters of the week by doing worksheets, and I must say I am impressed with what they can do! We also have been doing worksheets with the shapes and numbers of the week too! Another cool thing we are working on is using scissors, I know that sounds scary but it's a skill they will learn and need to know for all the fun crafts in kindergarten. The topics we covered in February are weather, Valentine's Day, and Dr. Seuss. For Valentine's Day we talked about loving our friends and family and really focused on using nice words and hands towards one another. For weather we talked about the different types of weather and what our favorite one was. We also did the paper wind socks for a craft. The penguins have been a lot of fun this month and I appreciate being able to teach them and watch their little minds grow! In March I plan on doing a fun St. Patrick's Day rainbow craft. We will also probably have a dress up day on St. Patrick's Day too. We will continue to work on our writing skills and do worksheets for shapes and colors as well.
